COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The present plan is to start reconstruction of the Chapman Street sewer on May 31st. This date is about two weeks later than originally planned. The delay was caused by the extra time it took to locate and repair the leak in the West Bethel Water System.

About ten years ago the town was deeded a piece of land 100'x275' enlarging the West Bethel Flat Cemetery. No plan of lots was ever drafted, and purchasers of lots have never received their deed. Presently a plan is being drafted and as soon as approved by the Selectmen deeds will be issued to those already owning lots.

Carl Brooks, Utility Engineer for the State Highway Commission, called at the Town Office on Tuesday relative to town sewers located within the proposed construction area of the overhead bridge.

The Virchow Flying Service expects to do the aerial spraying for insect control the first days of June.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

HIGHWAY PICNIC AREAS OPEN FOR SEASON

The State Highway Commission planned to have its 200 roadside picnic areas open for the season Saturday.

Highway Department crews, during the past month, have been busy readying the popular areas for use. Grounds have been cleaned, tables and trash barrels given a fresh coat of paint, and new equipment installed.

Improvements to the picnic areas this season include more fireplaces, newly designed last year, cedar fencing, tree plantings and more new toilets. At the end of this season more than half the picnic areas throughout the state will be served by toilets.

Many of the areas already have the new fireplaces, which give the picnicker a safe place to build a fire with either wood or charcoal.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, May 25
Read II Corinthians 4:1-7

We have the treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us, (II Corinthians 4:7.)

In the little country church where I worship each Sunday morning is an old-manually-powered pipe organ, no longer used in our services. To the right of this organ is a small door, just large enough for a person to squeeze through.

For years, the organ boy entered there to pump air into the bellows during the worship services. It was his duty to keep the bellows full of air so that the organist could produce the provide regular maintenance of the picnic areas during the season to keep them neat and presentable for Maine and out-of-state motorists.

Picnic areas may be located along highways throughout the state by consulting Maine's official highway map. Locations are shown by an appropriate symbol. A leaflet listing the location and available facilities at each of Maine's roadside picnic areas can be obtained by writing the State Highway Commission, Augusta, Maine, or the nearest information bureau.

Bikes, trikes, scooters, roller skates, a rolling ball, etc.—all these are caution signs for the good driver. Each one spells danger, and a cautious driver is unusually alert to guard against it. The Maine Highway Safety Committee reminds us that each of these things calls for reduced speed—to the point where we shall be able to stop quickly, should the emergency arise.

power and beauty of sacred music.

During the services, I find my thoughts wandering to that little door and to the organ boy. They remind me that if we are to live to the fullest we must let the Holy Spirit enter our hearts to give us power—even as He gave it to the disciples on the Day of Pentecost when He came as a mighty rushing wind. It is through Him that we find our faith renewed and guidance given to bring harmony to our needy world.

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast taught us how to pray — alone, without repetition, and in faith believing. We thank Thee that through Christ Thou hast given us the perfect prayer: "Our Father who art in heaven. Amen."

Thought For The Day
The Holy Spirit makes possible the heavenly harmonies heard in a discordant world.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

After the treasurer's and secretary's report had been read and accepted we got underway with old business by discussing the coming dance for the 7th and 8th graders. In view of the fact that the 8th graders will be going to Conservation Camp on May 26, we will have our last dance on June 2nd. We hope to see all you 7th and 8th graders there because we are going to sell extra refreshments which we have solicited and we want to give you a good time. That's from 7 to 9 p. m. Next under old business we gave out parts to our members who are going to participate in the service this coming Sunday.

Under new business we talked about the Youth Council Meeting which we had last Friday evening, and we decided that we want another one this coming Sunday in place of our regular meeting. The reason for wanting another meeting is that some of our advisors don't seem to think that we're doing well enough, and we want to iron out the problems.

The discussion this coming Sunday will be led by Julia Brown and Matthew Brooks. Respectfully submitted, Steve Dock.

The way we get it, the economists are predicting an upturn in the economy as soon as business gets better. — Changing Times.

"Americans built more housing per capita in the 1920's, when there were no Federal programs, than at any time since. Today you'd think that if the U. S. didn't house us, we'd be living in caves, if you believe Washington talk." — Industrial Press Service.

SPRING CLEAN-UP HELPS PREVENT FIRES

Giving the home and the farm a good spring clean-up can help prevent fires.

"Don't give fire a place to start," says Mardis R. Warner, Extension Service agricultural engineer, University of Maine. Warner is chairman of the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council. The Council has designated May as Spring Clean-up Month in Maine.

Here are some of Warner's suggestions on keeping the home and the farm free from fire:

Keep the home free of all fire hazards by regular inspections.

Be careful with smoking or matches.

Don't allow trash or oily rags to accumulate in homes or farm buildings. A clean house seldom burns. Keep attics, lofts, cellars, and other storage places clear of trash and accessible for firefighting.

Remove grass, weeds, and dry vegetation from around buildings and along fence rows.

Burn trash regularly in small quantities in a safe place and at a safe distance from buildings. It's best to use a good receptacle for burning trash. Check local regulations before starting any outside fire.

Replace damaged or worn lightning rods or wires. Be sure ground connections are secure.

Install lightning surge arresters on the load side of the meter to reduce interior damage to the home. This will also protect meter service, wiring, and electrical appliances.

Plan escape routes from every room in the house.

LEAVE IT BE

Spring is that wonderful time of year when man has a strong urge to get out-of-doors to drink in the marvels of nature that are part of his heritage. High on the list of nature's spring activities is the birth of many kinds of wild creatures. And every baby wild-life form, whether it be a spotted fawn or a tiny woodchuck, looks to the novice outdoorsman like a helpless creature indeed. 'Taint necessarily so. Chances are the mother doe or 'chuck is waiting nearby for the human intruder to leave the scene.

It is not only unlawful to transport wild game out of season, it just isn't good conservation to pick up wildlife "babies" thinking that they have been abandoned.

Each year about this time the Fish and Game Department finds itself in the foster mother business, with fawn deer in particular being turned over to wardens with the comment, "the poor thing was all alone and the mother must have been killed." The sentiment is fine, but please leave little "Bambi" be. It's a good bet that the youngster will be a lot better off in the hands of Mother Nature.

SCHOOL BUS LAWS CONTRARY TO ALL SAFETY RULES

School bus laws, which require motor vehicles to stop when the bus is discharging its passengers, are contrary to all principles of pedestrian safety and may well be undoing all the teachings of good safety habits by parents, school officials, and safety experts.

In a talk given today by ALA's Safety Director to the Association's Safety Committee, it was noted that such laws teacher young students the "worst possible safety habits and ones that can well cause death or injury if they are followed in later life."

"From infancy children are taught not to cross the street without looking both ways, to cross only when the red and amber lights are on, never to dart out in front of a vehicle, to cross only at intersections or to wait for the signal of an officer before crossing," Philip C. Wallwork said.

All these teachings are then thrown out the window when they alight from a school bus. It is then quite all right to cross in front of the bus and walk across the street without looking—secure in the fact that the law gives them the "OK" Such habits can stay with the child, both while at play and as he matures."

Wallwork urged all states to re-examine their school bus laws and give serious thought to having children remain on the right hand side of the road after alighting until a hand-operated red light stops traffic. The light would be on a time cycle to operate only at certain intervals and at certain times of the day.

"Such a system," Wallwork said, "would teach the students
